2. POLICY

2.1 ACCESS TO RESOURCES

Western Riverina Libraries' collection includes publications that may have mature content and films and computer games that have been classified "G" (General), "PG" (Parental Guidance) or "M" (Mature). Parents/guardians are responsible for ensuring that their child's selection and use of materials in the Libraries' collection accords with any restrictions the family may wish to set. Western Riverina Libraries encourage parents/guardians to consult with their child to develop clear rules regarding access to resources that accord with the family's personal values and beliefs.

Parents/guardians are responsible for their child's use of the Internet. Our Libraries promote and support young people's access to information, including electronic information through their Internet facilities. Library staff are available to assist young people in the use of the Internet, and to recommend websites on particular subjects. A number of appropriate websites have been selected for inclusion in our electronic collections on the Libraries' website www.wrl.nsw.gov.au

2.2 UNATTENDED CHILDREN

Unsupervised children can be at risk in any public place, including public libraries. Western Riverina Libraries' staff do not supervise children in the library, and there is a risk that unattended children may leave the library at any time, hurt themselves, or be approached by strangers. In addition, libraries do not have the facilities to attend to children who are sick, injured or hungry.

Children who are left unattended in a public library may be classed as a child or young person at risk of harm under s. 23 of the Children and Young Persons (Care and Protection) Act 1998 (NSW) and may be reported as such to the Police. Parents who leave a child unattended in the Library are exposing their child to potential harm and may be committing an offence under s. 228 of the Children and Young Persons (Care and Protection) Act 1998 (NSW).

Young children left alone in a library can become distressed, bored or disruptive. Young people who disturb other library users may be asked to leave the Library under clause 17 of the Library Regulation 2010 (NSW).

Appropriate signage in the Libraries advises patrons that "Children must be supervised by an adult at all times. Library staff do not supervise children".
